I. JOINT MESSAGE OF THE CHAIR AND AFS DIRECTOR

Abdoul Aziz Wane
AFRITAC South Director

We strived to support our members' efforts to contain the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on lives and livelihoods in the region. The center, in collaboration with the IMF Headquarters (HQ) and partners, enhanced its engagement with members to identify and reprioritize capacity development (CD) services to fast-track policy responses and address skill gaps. The reprioritization reflected policy discussions between member countries and IMF teams in the context of program and surveillance. Despite the lockdown and digital challenges due to inadequate information technology (IT) infrastructure in some countries, CD services to the region remained robust through the pandemic, following the trend of program engagement and financing. The center organized around 190 interventions in FY22 with over a third directed to fragile and conflict affected states (FCS)<sup>1</sup>.

Dr Kealeboga S Masalila
Chairman, AFS Steering
Committee (Botswana)

The AFS region outperformed macroeconomic projections in 2021, but the outlook remains bleak. The April 2022 regional economic outlook revised 2021 growth up to 4.2 percent, 0.8 percentage points more than its earlier projection. The Fragile Country Index estimates that risks and vulnerabilities facing AFS members were less pronounced than initially thought. Over half of AFS countries ended 2021 with better-than-expected debt/GDP and revenue/GDP ratios and lower price volatility. These results are indicative of the effectiveness of the policy responses and of the role of the international financing that helped avoid disorderly adjustments. The war in Ukraine is, however, clouding the outlook and compounding the pandemic-related risks. The impact of the sanctions on Russia on food and fuel prices are already weighing on the weak fiscal and external balances of member countries, albeit with differing severity. The heterogeneity of AFS countries requires country specific CD programs to give a fillip to economic recovery.

The supply shocks from the war in Ukraine and the impact of fiscal and monetary policies deployed to help the recovery from the pandemic will affect AFS members. High commodity prices, rising interest rates, and a stronger US dollar will create additional fiscal pressures to service growing debts. Commodity exporters will enjoy short-term improvements in government balance sheet from higher revenue that are however unlikely to compensate durably the daunting need for higher development spending. AFS stands ready to respond nimbly to the authorities' demand for support on price measurements to ensure that policy responses are timely and well calibrated. With the gradual shift to the new normal, CD on revenue mobilization, debt management, and banking supervision remain a priority for macroeconomic and financial stability. The center remains committed to its demand-driven mandate and will respond to CD demands, including on climate, governance, nowcasting, gender, fintech, and digitalization.

As the Fund implements its new strategy for FCS, the center will adjust its approach to provide a higher share of its resources to help these countries build resilience and address adverse climate events and gender inequalities. In this spirit, the center is prioritizing a holistic and longer-term, structured training-oriented CD to assist these members address skill gap and strengthen their core macroeconomic institutions. The center's CD is supporting other IMF instruments, including the recently approved Resilience and Sustainability Trust set up to help low-income and vulnerable middle-income countries address longer-term structural challenges that pose macroeconomic risks, including from climate change and pandemics.

At the June 2022 Steering Committee Meeting members took note of recommendations of the mid-term external evaluation (MEE) and endorsed the implementation action plan. The Committee also endorsed the center's phase III Program (FY24-FY28) which, inter-alia makes the case for scaling-up CD in growth areas and to FCS and to expand AFS team to support the implementation of the proposals in the program and in the MEE report. This report highlights the execution of the FY22 workplan and the CD priorities for FY23 endorsed at the June 2022 SC meeting. The report has four sections and four Annexes. Section II highlights the execution of the FY22 work plan, and Section III the FY23 priorities, and Section IV AFS budget and financing. Annex I provides the key achievements by country, Annex II the FY22 workplan execution, Annex III and Annex IV the FY23 work plan and seminar/webinar plan respectively (as endorsed at the June 2022 SC meeting).

II. EXECUTION OF THE FY22 CD PLAN

The uncertainties of 2021 over the COVID-19 pandemic and a depressed economic outlook called for scaling-up CD to support the increase in IMF financing. The FY22 workplan was designed to support authorities to better address the macroeconomic and financial challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic and to expedite reform plans to mitigate the impact, including reforms discussed in the context of program engagement. The workplan also made case for increased CD to FCS and in priority areas, including governance, digitalization, gender, and climate, to support members to cope with the pandemic and sustain efforts toward the sustainable development goals (SDGs). Annex II provides details on the CD delivery to AFS members through the different funding programs.

A. FISCAL PROGRAM

The program focused on public financial management (PFM) and revenue administration (tax and customs) reforms to spend better and ensure tax compliance. CD on PFM focused on fiscal governance (including infrastructure governance and fiscal transparency), engendering PFM, addressing climate vulnerabilities and resilience in PFM, enhancing PFM information systems, and introducing new digital tools for better fiscal risk management and reporting. AFS customs administration program supported countries implement reforms and modernization programs and respond to the challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic. This included CD support on matters relating to crisis management, customs valuation, risk management, intelligence, post clearance audit, project management, data matching, internal audit, excise, and automation of customs clearance procedures. CD on tax administration focused on strengthening revenue administrations through risk-based compliance management, data analysis, and audit capacity. Revenue administration also focused on building appropriate governance and management structures by supporting development of strategic planning and monitoring frameworks and strengthening leadership capacity. These CD areas remain closely linked to the regional harmonization and integration objectives of regional partners, including SADC and COMESA and support the SDGs. The center's training program covered (i) expenditure reprioritization, (ii) performance-based budgeting, (iii) fiscal transparency and PFM digital solutions, (iv) fiscal risk management and debt sustainability, (v) fiscal risks and macro shocks, (vi) business continuity and disaster recovery planning, and (vii) modern audit management principles.

B. MONETARY AND FINANCIAL SECTOR DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The focus of the banking supervision and regulation (BSR) portfolio remained on Basel II/III and risk-based supervision (RBS) implementation, with additional work on COVID-19 impact and in growth areas, including cyber risk. CD targeted progress on (i) implementation of Basel II/III requirements, (ii) RBS implementation, including risk identification and assessment, risk rating, supervisory action planning, supervisory review process, and (iii) cybersecurity. The center supported central banks in developing and implementing Basel II/III regulatory reforms, enhancing the effectiveness and efficiency of RBS frameworks, developing, and implementing cybersecurity regulation and supervision initiatives, as well as operationalizing newly developed Supervisory Review and Evaluation Process frameworks; assessment of international capital adequacy assessment process submissions; and licensing framework for digital banks. In addition, a workshop, conducted in collaboration with IMF's Monetary and Capital Markets Department (MCM), offered guidance to member countries on managing the exit from banking regulatory and supervisory measures implemented in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Taking advantage of the operational and budget capacity provided by remote CD delivery, the FY22 BSR work program delivered over 20 CD missions and made significant progress on both longstanding reforms and emerging CD needs.

Priorities for the money and FX market operations portfolio (MFXMO) included support towards ongoing monetary policy reforms and facilitating the adoption of good practices in modelling and forecasting, monetary policy implementation and operation (MPIO), FX market development, and market development. FY22 CD focused on the use of Business Expectations Survey for the near-term forecasting framework; developing the Composite Economic Indicator Index; strengthening the effective implementation of monetary policy, including FX policy; developing the interbank market to enhance the monetary policy transmission; developing the Emergency Liquidity Assistance (ELA) framework; strengthening the liquidity forecasting framework; developing the unsecured and secured interbank market; and implementing FX operations. The center, in collaboration with MCM, Africa Training Institute (ATI), and AFRITAC East (AFE) organized regional events in core topics. A virtual five-day peer-to-peer workshop for the Sub-Saharan African (SSA) central banks on Forecasting and Policy Analysis System (FPAS) by AFS, ATI, and AFE, and a workshop on Model-Based Monetary Policy Analysis and Forecasting (MPAF) by MCM, AFS, and ATI were designed to help participants build models for their countries and work on extensions and improvements of already-built models used for monetary policy analysis and policy research. A virtual three-day high-level conference, by AFS, AFE, and ATI, focused on monetary policy modernization and future challenges in central banking in the SSA region. The conference provided an opportunity for central banks' policymakers to reflect on recent reforms of monetary policy frameworks and discuss the way forward. The program focused on their challenges when reforming monetary policy frameworks, the experiences of transitioning to price-based monetary policy frameworks, and from a peg to more flexible exchange rate regimes.

Other topics included central bank independence and accountability, communication, and transparency. The discussion on the role of digitalization and fintech in central banking and monetary policy was thought-provoking, while the session on monetary policy experiences in SAA countries during the COVID-19 pandemic delivered key lessons.

AFS continued to provide CD on Financial Market Infrastructures and Fintech (FMIF) to enable the completion of national payments system (NPS) reforms and aid the adoption of international good practice for risk management and oversight of the Financial Market Infrastructures (FMIs). The focus has been on diagnostics of the NPS; NPS law; oversight of payment systems; market conduct for retail payment systems; framework for collaboration with regulatory authorities; conducting reviews of assessments of FMIs against the Principles for FMIs; and providing guidance on the oversight of mobile money service providers. To support the growing demand of CD on digital payments the center, in collaboration with MCM and IMF's Legal Department (LEG), delivered a webinar on 'Follow the Money: Regulatory and Policy Perspectives on Digital Payments' with focus on (i) overview of digital payment methods and trends; (ii) fintech and bigtech in payments (iii) current state of central bank digital currency (CBDC) developments; (iv) operational resilience in digital payments; (v) key considerations for developing regulatory, supervisory and oversight frameworks for digital payments; (vi) legal and regulatory considerations for CBDC; and (vii) panel discussion on the policy choices and trade-offs of digital money. Furthermore, AFS alongside MCM, collaborated on a regional course on the principles for FMIs for 17 countries across Africa.

C. STATISTICS PROGRAM

In coordination with the IMF's Statistics Department (STA), AFS continued to promote the compilation and dissemination of high-quality data reflecting international standards and best practices. The center supported statistical agencies to further improve the quality of data by updating/developing price indices (i.e., consumer price index (CPI), producer price index (PPI), residential property price index (RPPI), import and export price indexes (MXPI), and agricultural land price index (ALPI)) and improving the national accounts (annual GDP and quarterly GDP) statistics based on accepted statistical methodologies and compilation best practices<sup>2</sup>. These activities are expected to improve macroeconomic frameworks and support IMF surveillance. The center delivered a one-week virtual workshop on PPI Compilation Methods covering PPI conceptual and development issues and specific challenges with developing/updating of weights, selecting samples, price collection, and the treatment of missing prices. A virtual webinar on National Accounts for Beginners was delivered in partnership with AFE and the Macroeconomic and Financial Management Institute of Eastern and Southern Africa and covered theoretical and practical aspects in the compilation of national accounts statistics based on the conceptual framework of the 2008 System of National Accounts. A virtual webinar on Rebasing the National Accounts was delivered to provide participants with an understanding on the scope, role, and strategic issues associated with GDP rebasing, the requirements for rebasing, the role of the supply and use tables (SUT), the backcasting of the new GDP series, and the development of a rebasing work plan.

Box 1. Engagement with Fragile Countries: Ownership Enabled Traction and Progress in AFS FCS

FCS continue to face institutional capacity constraints, climate vulnerabilities, food insecurity, gender disparities, and limited access to public services. Average 2021 output growth in FCS within SSA remained lowest compared to the non-FCS countries in the SSA as well as relative to the rest of the world (Figure 1). Real GDP per capita of FCS in SSA region generally declined with the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic (Figure 2), pushing millions of people into poverty. The Fragile States Index<sup>3</sup> for the AFS region however portrays an overall reduction in risks and vulnerabilities from 2011 to 2021 (Figure 3) with most indicators showing an improvement (Figure 4). A quarter of AFS members still face fragile conditions. The recent climate events in the Indian Ocean region, continued stress from the COVID-19, and the spillover effects of the war in Ukraine are likely to worsen conditions—as already visible from energy and commodity price increases.

Through FY22 AFS maintained close engagement with its FCS and ensured that CD remain demand driven. Recent works in FCS include:

- Comoros: AFS CD supported the authorities with finalizing COVID-19 related accounting and reporting systems, revising the organic law of state's finance, and strengthening the Treasury Single Account (TSA) functionalities. Comoros' customs department also operationalized an Oils Unit and implemented new customs clearance and accounting procedures for petroleum products, among other reforms, with the support of AFS.
- Madagascar: Through AFS CD the finance ministry made progress on asset management and cash management, started implementing a customs modernization program, developed an internal control framework, and enhanced management of corporate priorities through effective enterprise and compliance risk management. Significant progress has been made on central bank's communication.

<sup>3</sup> The Fragile States Index is provided by The Fund for Peace. A decline in the index indicates a reduction in fragility conditions.

- Zimbabwe: AFS CD on data matching helped the authorities raise tax filing rates for value-added tax, pay as you earn, and corporate income tax. AFS PFM CD helped improve transparency and reliability of fiscal risks statements, which now incorporate most contingent liabilities and other fiscal risks. CD on banking supervision and regulation helped the central bank of Zimbabwe better align its remote examination framework with international practice.

D. TRAINING PROGRAM

To support the reform programs of member countries and progress on milestones, the center continued to deliver training courses in collaboration with the Institute for Capacity Development (ICD). The courses complement the seminars, webinars, and workshops conducted under the above funding programs. The FY22 topics covered MPAF, Macroeconomic Management in Resource-Rich Countries, Inclusive Growth, and Financial Development and Financial Inclusion. The ATI remained a close partner. The above courses complement ICD's CD support on designing country-tailored frameworks for macroeconomic forecasting and policy analysis. Such analytical tools, which include near-term forecasting, the Debt Dynamics Tool, and a variety of macro-framework models spanning a range of capacities, are particularly useful in helping to meet post-pandemic objectives.

Through FY22 member countries made progress on outcomes across workstreams (Figure 5)<sup>4</sup>. The center funded around 190 CD activities. Good traction was noted with FCS which absorbed around a third of the CD delivered.

<sup>4</sup> Information Annex I provides key achievements by member countries across the different workstreams.

III. FY23 PRIORITIES

Continued challenges from the COVID-19 pandemic and the war in Ukraine are likely to upend a fragile recovery and reforms.

These events, combined with domestic economic woes as inflation and erosion of fiscal space in the AFS region, have elevated the macroeconomic and financial risks and added even greater policy challenges. As in the rest of SSA, policy makers in the AFS region face the daunting task of expanding capital spending and government revenue while at the same time reversing the rise in public debt. For countries with low and/or declining growth and employment prospects, increasing tax remains highly unpopular in the near-term. The recent uprisings across continents due to price increases are likely to further constrain policymakers. Mobilizing revenue by further reinforcing tax and customs administrations and improving expenditure efficiency through PFM reforms remain easier options. Central banks' role towards strengthening financial supervision and regulation, improving monetary and FX market operations, and monitoring and addressing financial stability risks remain critical.

The authorities look to gain from digital innovations, better governance and transparency, and climate-resilient and gender-friendly policies and institutions, which remain critical for the SDGs. The authorities are expressing growing demand for tailored CD on fiscal transparency and governance, CBDC, digital payments, supervision of fintech firms and crypto assets, cybersecurity, climate-related risks, and gender inclusion, along with strong engagements on budgets frameworks and management of fiscal risks. In the medium- to long-term, economic diversification, completion of pending structural reforms, and easing intra-regional trade remain essential for improving macro-fiscal outlook and reducing vulnerabilities. Annexes III and IV provide the detailed CD activities proposed for FY23 by country and by funding program. These will allow member countries to make further progress on the pending Phase II milestones and outcomes, and address vulnerabilities.

Building Fiscal Resilience

The proposed FY23 CD priorities are closely linked to addressing revenue mobilization, expenditure prioritization, and debt reduction objectives. The plan will help the authorities continue PFM and revenue administration reforms, with a growing emphasis on fiscal risk management-digitalization, mitigating and adapting to climate change, and governance. The center will increase CD support on debt sustainability and support fiscal-related aspects of debt management and of medium-term debt strategies to address sovereign, composition, and rollover risks and SOE contingent liabilities. Box 2 highlights the FY23 focus areas for the fiscal workstreams. The center will complement the CD missions with tailored workshops and seminars and peer learning events. FY23 fiscal program includes short in-country workshops to be delivered during missions, including some customized for FCS, and seminars focusing on core topics.

Border and inland control
Post-clearance audit & customs risk management
Trade facilitation
Customs fraud and Smuggling

B. MONETARY AND FINANCIAL SECTOR DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Supporting Financial Sector Resilience Through Disruption and Change

FY23 priorities across the workstreams will be to complete the pending milestones for phase II while expanding CD in growth areas to support the recovery, mitigate macroeconomic and financial risks, and build resilience. Priority for the banking supervision and regulation portfolio will continue to be on Basel II/III implantation, RBS, cybersecurity regulation, and supervision reform, with regulation and supervision of corporate governance for banks added. The BSR FY23 workplan is significantly larger than any previous AFS BSR workplan, with a target of delivering practical tangible CD through over 30 missions. This is a big increase over FY22, which was already large, and will be achieved through continued collaboration with MCM on cybersecurity, and implementation of medium-term CD initiatives, covering both priority areas and member countries, whilst re-incorporating in-person missions into a hybrid-CD delivery program.

Priority for MFXMO will remain on FPAS, MPIO, liquidity management, liquidity forecasting, FX operations and FX policy implementation, central bank communication, market development, and ELA. The center will work with MCM on the implications of currency digitalization of central bank operation and risk management. Resident advisors will continue to engage with their counterparties on the implications of digital currency for policy implementation as part of the mainstreaming of the digital issue. These CD will support improved monetary policy decisions, increase transparency and accountability, support central banks in their efforts to develop the financial markets, and increase and broaden the general capacity and skills in monetary policy.

Box 3. Strengthening Debt Management in East and Southern Africa

With the growing concern of policy makers across the region over the worsening fiscal outlook, including rising debt levels, demand for CD support on debt management has increased. The COVID-19 Crisis Capacity Development Initiative (CCCDI) is funding a shared resident advisor in AFS and AFE to assist member countries<sup>5</sup> on issues related to debt management. The advisor, in collaboration with MCM, will support CD in the following areas:

Debt management strategy formulation and implementation: The resident advisor will help authorities formulate and implement debt management strategies that are consistent with each country's institutional and operational set-up for debt management, its macroeconomic environment, as well as with the level of development of the regional debt markets and the structure of the investor base. The advisor will work with country authorities in developing the necessary capacity, providing technical advice so that they can formulate and implement a medium-term debt management strategy in line with the World Bank-IMF MTDS framework, and develop an appropriate framework for the management of debt portfolio risk. This will be supported by training for staff in the formulation of an annual borrowing plan and an issuance calendar, including the integration of cash and debt management.

Institutional and operational arrangements for debt management: The advisor will assist authorities on broader issues relating to their institutional and operational arrangements for debt management, including coordination among national entities involved in debt management and issuance. This will also include the preparation of debt management reform plans and provision of training on the debt sustainability analysis framework.

Domestic and international market development: The advisor will advise governments on how best to develop domestic debt markets. Focusing on strengthening debt portfolio risk management through greater issuance of local currency securities, making improvements to the primary market and issuance framework to help to diversify market borrowing and improve macro-financial resilience. Relevant issues include issuance techniques (e.g., auctions, private placement, and/or syndications), instrument design, developing the yield curve, primary dealer and market-making arrangements etc. The advisor will also provide advice on potential issues in financing in international markets as appropriate in the context of a country's debt management strategy.

Improving debt transparency: The advisor will assist governments in establishing and maintaining good quality debt records, support the development of regular reporting on public debt through quarterly bulletins, annual reports, and other publications, and implement effective investor relations where appropriate.

Priority for FMIF will remain to address pending work on FMI assessments, review of NPS legislation, and fintech oversight and regulation. As central banks in the region increasingly digitalize, CD demand for the portfolio is likely to grow. AFS, in collaboration with MCM, will support member countries to deepen oversight skills, knowledge, and expertise in FMIF areas, including nonbank access to payment systems, modernizing payment systems, and overcome the interoperability challenges from emerging e-money or mobile payment schemes. AFS will continue to help build capacity to enable the completion of NPS reforms and aid the adoption of international best practices for risk management and oversight of the FMIs, with increased focus on guiding fintech regulation and oversight. The FY23 plan will help countries to further advance on oversight and supervisory framework for FMIs, ensure compliance to international standards for systemically important FMIs, and ensure that FMIs operate on a sound, transparent, and enforceable legal basis.

In collaboration with MCM, AFS will deliver training events, some jointly with AFE and AFRITAC West 2. The plan includes seminars/webinars, on (i) FPAS, (ii) Advanced Monetary Policy Communication, (iii) Basic Monetary Policy Communication, (iv) Advanced Market Development, (v) Cyber Security, (v) Repo, (vi) Advanced Market Development, (vii) Basic Market Development, (viii) Cross Border Payments (ix) Principles for FMIs, and (x) CBDC Developments and Framework. Where possible and useful, synergies will be sought with ATI.

Building Statistical Capacity for Improved Policies

AFS will continue to support member countries to complete pending milestones in core areas (Box. 5) and increase engagement with FCS. Higher budgetary resources to the statistical agencies in the FCS and improvements in inter-agency coordination will help improve the impact of CD services. The center will continue to tailor CD services to the countries' level of fragility. The center's FY23 CD plan will be complemented by three regional seminars/webinars covering national account and price statistics. The center will assess the readiness of some member countries to graduate to new forms and areas of statistical CD within the mandate of the IMF. In collaboration with the D4D project managed by HQ, the center will assess demands for CD on high-frequency indicators and big data. The center will try to leverage synergies with ICD's work on nowcasting GDP.

Box 5. FY23 and Medium-Term Priorities –Statistics Program

National Accounts

The priorities for FY23 remain broadly unchanged. The proposed FY23 plan will support statistical agencies to further improve the national accounts (annual GDP and quarterly GDP) based on accepted statistical methodologies and compilation practices. CD interventions in FY23 will work towards achieving milestones in the following key areas:

- dissemination of rebased/revised/improved annual GDP estimates and rebase planning
- develop/improve/disseminate quarterly national accounts
- validating and disseminating financial accounts and balance sheets

Price Statistics

Proposed FY23 activities will continue to support national statistical agencies to further improve the quality and coverage of price data by updating/developing price indices i.e.,

- updating/improving the CPI
- developing/updating the PPI
- improving/developing the RPPI

D. LEGAL PROGRAM

Strengthening Legal Frameworks

The center will continue to provide CD on reviewing financial and fiscal laws in collaboration with LEG. Through FY22 CD services focused on FMI legislation (Mozambique) and customs legislation (Comoros and Madagascar). FY23 priorities will largely include work on governance in collaboration with other IMF CD departments and will be backed by a new resident advisor (Box 6). Other priorities include modernizing tax legislation (Botswana), PFM legal frameworks (Eswatini, Mozambique) and the role of legal frameworks in tackling gender inequality (regional webinar).

Box 6. New Resident Advisor on Governance

The Phase III Program makes case for expanding CD on governance and transparency to support member countries' initiatives. AFS SC endorsed a LEG-backed new resident advisor to work on the legal aspects of governance and anticorruption. The advisor will coordinate with LEG GAC the assistance to authorities on the design and implementation of anticorruption policies, law and regulations, and institutions and actions to advance the rule of law. The advisor will also coordinate with AFS colleagues to identify, in each workstream, the support provided to improve governance and fight corruption. The advisor will coordinate courses, seminars, and webinars with a predominance of governance and corruption issues, in collaboration with ATI, FAD, FIN, MCM, STA, and IMF's Strategy, Policy and Review Department. AFS will work to strengthen collaboration with the African Union Commission, COMESA, SADC, Indian Ocean Commission, and other development partners. Starting FY23, the center will organize at least one regional event for countries that conducted diagnostic missions to share experiences with other countries.

E. ENGAGEMENT WITH FRAGILE COUNTRIES

The Fund's new strategy for FCS strongly supports a well-tailored approach which factors in the drivers of fragility, political economy dynamics, and specific constraints to reform in each country, in coordination with other partners. Country ownership remains key to advancing reforms in FCS. Going forward the center will continue to provide CD to FCS in collaboration with IMF-HQ, AFR, and ATI to progressively strengthen institutions and effectively implement policies to address vulnerabilities and build resilience. As travel restrictions get eased, the center will relaunch placement of officials under the professional attachment programs to facilitate peer learning.

To support members' reform programs, the center will continue to deliver training courses in collaboration with the ICD. The FY23 plan includes courses on Financial Sector Surveillance, Financial Sector Policies, General Macroeconomic Analysis –Nowcasting, Climate, and Digital currency.

Box 7. New ICD-backed Resident Advisor on Macroeconomic Frameworks

The center will hire a new resident advisor backstopped by ICD to provide CD to countries on how they can integrate big data and machine learning techniques to improve the quality of macroeconomic assessments and forecasts. The advisor will also coordinate with the STA advisors in helping countries compile high frequency data and work with ATI's resilience resident advisor in the provision of training on nowcasting and CD on integrating health and climate shocks in member countries' macroeconomic frameworks. The advisor will work closely with ATI's resident advisor supporting training to Madagascar's central bank in the context of the pilot strategy to enhance the coherence and consistency of our CD to FCS.

Box 8. IMF's COVID-19 Crisis Capacity Development Initiative

Under the CCCDI, IMF is funding a three-year program (FY22-FY24) to assist select AFS countries to manage revenue mobilization challenges following the COVID-19 pandemic. The objective is to help countries to develop and implement revenue recovery plans to meet their immediate and medium-term revenue mobilization needs in an agile and timely manner. The program is being supported by a resident advisor whose terms of reference include:

- a) providing technical advice to support the countries to develop and implement strategies to increase their revenues to pre-pandemic levels and beyond, achieve their countries' revenue goals, and meet their expenditure needs, and
- b) organizing workshops to provide detailed guidance and help authorities to successfully implement the recommended reforms.

IV. AFS BUDGET AND FINANCING

As of April 30, 2022, contributions received to AFS Phase II amounted to around US$ 50.0 million (Table 1). The total reflects contributions from the European Commission, Germany, the United Kingdom, Switzerland, China, the Netherlands, the European Investment Bank, Australia, and the host country Mauritius. Eight members<sup>6</sup> had signed contribution agreements and contributions are pending from three members.

FY22 expenses amounted to US$8.0 million compared to US$6.5 million in FY21 (Table 2). The under execution across projects is mainly explained by the prolonged travel restrictions in the COVID-19 environment and cancellations of missions originally planned for in-field delivery. The virtualization of the work plan generated significant savings while allowing to organize CD delivery amidst the COVID-19 pandemic.

The extension of the phase by one year will allow the center to absorb financial resources for phase II. The FY23 plan is estimated at US$13.3 million. A full execution of the workplan will rest on the full disbursement of pending contributions from member countries having signed LOUs and from members with pending contribution agreement and possible funding from donor partners. To avoid liquidity issues and expand CD in the new areas, it is highly recommended that member countries expedite their disbursements. The center is proposing to revisit the extension period of the phase in the mid-year review in the event liquidity issues arise. The center is also proposing to maintain the total contributions by members, excluding host country, at US$500,000 for Phase III.

<sup>6</sup> A contribution agreement with Zimbabwe was signed in early May 2022, i.e., outside the reporting period of May 2021-April 2022.

Excerpts from statement by Mr. Samuel Randriambolamanitra, Director, Macroeconomic Statistics, National Statistical Institute of Madagascar

“The capacity development from AFRITAC South has helped us adopt the System of National Accounts 1993. Madagascar compiled supply-use tables for the new base year 2007. The professional attachment [funded by AFRITAC South] of several national accountants from Madagascar to Statistics Mauritius has provided them with a better understanding of the compilation process. [...] Assistance from AFRITAC South has helped us deepen our understanding of national accounts concepts”

Promoting Peer-Learning in the AFS Region on Statistical Methodologies: AFS funded attachment program for staff members of the National Institute of Statistics of Madagascar (INSTAT) to Statistics Mauritius. AFS noted that in addition to CD provided, the INSTAT still needed support to clean up the data, carry out quality control and prepare the documentation to release the re-weighted CPI. The attachment program provided leverage to achieve this target and it is expected that the INSTAT. It also helped INSTAT build capacity to better prepare the upcoming CPI rebase that will be based on the new household budget survey scheduled in 2019.
